

Insertion sort is the quickest of the three when it is used for small inputs.

Quick sort uses the least cache of the three and is fastest for normal sized inputs.

Heap is best for very big items because it's time increases logarithmically.